DC Reads tutoring has been off to an excellent start!

I’d like to thank all of you for the good work you are doing as you help to give the children you are tutoring the opportunity for a better education. I hope you realize how important you are to them and to the sites you are at!

This semester you are working alongside 145 tutors at 8 partner sites, and as a group you provide more than 750 hours of tutoring to children at our partner sites weekly. This is wonderful!

Bunker Hill Service Project

Did you know that over half of the students at Bunker Hill are considered economically disadvantaged? Two DC Reads team leaders, Eric Gannon and Emily Growney held a workshop last week to brainstorm a service project we could do on campus to help the children there.

To ensure the kids at Bunker Hill stay warm as it is getting colder, we will be having a warm clothing drive for them in the next few weeks. Don’t forget to buy some socks or a pair of gloves over Thanksgiving to bring back with you for the drive! Keep your eyes open for more information about how to make a donation.
